K2A receives award for best sustainability report of the year

K2A Knaust & Andersson Fastigheter AB has been named as one of three winners for publishing the best sustainability report in a review of all companies listed on Nasdaq OMX Stockholm's Mid Cap list.

“This confirms that we are serious about sustainability work. We have the most ambitious climate targets in the industry and actively work with all aspects of sustainability. We must then naturally also be among the best in terms of following up and reporting on our efforts,” says Johan Knaust, CEO of K2A.

Sustainability reports produced by listed companies for 2021 were reviewed and compared by Sthlm Kommunikation & IR, which is behind the award. This is the fifth year the agency has named the three best sustainability reports by companies on one of Nasdaq OMX Stockholm's lists.

“It is important for us that we can raise the profile of our systematic and active sustainability agenda. We have worked wholeheartedly with sustainability since K2A was founded in 2013 and have strived every year to become better at achieving transparency in how we work to contribute to sustainable social development. This award is clear confirmation that we have successfully communicated the work we are doing” says Karina Antin, Chief Sustainability Officer at K2A.

K2A is sharing the award with Cloetta and Fagerhult.
